Campbell predicts PC re-election

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

The Reform Party may be some threat to the Conservative support in Wildrose, but Prime Minister Kim Campbell is predicting re-election for incumbent MP Louise Feltham.

"I never like to count my chickens before they are hatched," Campbell said in an interview in Strathmore last week. "But this has always been a strong Conservative riding and I don't expect that will change."

Campbell was in the Wildrose riding last Thursday to support Feltham in her bid for re-election. Hundreds of PC supporters and media met up with the Prime Minister and her retinue at a local restaurant in Strathmore. The stop was one in a number of campaign stops in a two day blitz in the southern part of the province last week.

In campaigning for Feltham, Campbell told supporters that Feltham shares her vision of government.

"She has a strong sense that government really has to represent the people," Campbell said. "And like me, she really wants to make sure young people will have the opportunity to live in a prosperous country."

Like Campbell, Feltham was also confident that her re-election bid will be successful despite strong Reform Party support in the rural areas of the riding.

"This afternoon was very encouraging," Feltham said of Campbell's visit. "It's great to see how many people have come out to see the Prime Minister. It also speaks well for the future when so many young people come out."

But while both Campbell and Feltham are predicting a PC win in Wildrose, Reform Party candidate Myron Thompson is not so optimistic.

"I think Kim Campbell is going to be in for a big surprise," Thompson said about the PM's remarks. "All we have been getting is a positive response. Every door we knock on is either positive Reformers or undecided, especially in the rural areas. The urban area is a little different."

Thompson said he feels the reason he is getting such a warm response from residents is because of the parliamentary reform policies of his party.

"Our party policy says we must represent the people," he said while door knocking near Airdrie on Monday. "People are saying what's the use of going with the old-time politicians, we want somebody who will listen."

Four candidates are now in the running for the Wildrose seat

National circus

The media and local residents in Wildrose were out in full force last week for a visit from Prime Minister Kim Campbell. Hundreds of PC supporters, media and local officials jammed into a restaurant in Strathmore last Thursday to get a glimpse of the PM on her campaign tour. Campbell's visit marks the first time a Prime Minister has visited Wildrose since John Diefenbaker came to Strathmore in the early 1960s.

In an effort to reduce expenditures, the Mountain View Health Care Centre has announced that it will close 15 beds in acute care.

Hospital Administrator

Dennis Stabber said the move was made to help offset expected funding cuts from the provincial government this November.

"Even though the government hasn't handed down what the next cuts will be, we wanted to try and stay ahead," Stabber said. "We are already three quarters of the way through our budget year and we expect any more cuts will be retroactive to April."

The bed closures in Didsbury match similar bed closures in the two other county hospitals which make up the Mountain

One of the currently popular subjects for radio phone-in shows is the Canadian health care system. The system is under a lot of stress and we will all have to come to terms with the realization that it cannot continue to function at its present level. There are a number of reasons for the breakdown of the system but the most obvious ones are skyrocketing costs in facilities and wages, waste, duplication of tests and services, misuse and overuse by some segments of our population and of course government cutbacks.

Most of the people on the phone-in shows are angry and frightened. They are also looking for someone to blame but steadfastly refuse to forego one bandaid if it affects the health of their loved ones. A recent show picked up on the suggestion that smokers, because their recovery rate is lower than that of non-smokers, be dropped to the bottom of the health care list. This would mean, for example, that a smoker who needed a bypass operation would get medical attention only after all non-smokers were served. A lot of people thought this was fair and reasonable and I suppose the idea does have some merit but if we are going to be totally fair let's consider a few other people who should go to the bottom of the list.

For 10 days a Calgary firefighter lay in a hospital bed with leeches attached to his ear. The bull he had been riding in a benefit rodeo for STARS stepped on his ear and almost completely removed it from his head. The reattached ear was able to draw in, but not drain away blood, so until the veins regenerated leeches were part of the ears circulation system. The boy was riding for charity but whatever he made for STARS was more than offset by his hospital expense. Should they have just nipped off the shred of flesh that was holding his ear to his head? It would have saved thousands of dollars, a lost ear is not life threatening and he knew when he climbed on the bull that he might get hurt, so did he show more sense and responsibility than someone who smokes?

How about football and hockey players? What do you suppose they do to our health care system. How about rodeo riders and figure skaters and motorcyclists, rodeo clowns, stuntmen, high wire artists, lion tamers, ballet dancers and people who pick fights in bars. All of them are subject to strains, falls, bad backs, floating kidneys, bruises and broken bones. How about workaholics in high stress jobs or people who just sit around watching T.V. and letting their arteries harden. They too are a strain on the system. How about people who drink too much, or eat too much or overmedicate themselves. Where do they fit on the list?

How about people who heli-ski or people who climb mountains and fall into crevasses? If they are fool enough to get into a situation that dangerous shouldn't they pay for their rescue and for their medical expenses? How about criminals wounded while performing a crime? Do they get preference over a law abiding smoker? How about someone who has an accident while under the influence of drugs or booze? How about farmers who know better but stick their hands into hay balers anyway? How about old people who are tired and in pain or babies born less than perfect or anyone whose physical or mental state makes death preferable to life?

Except for restraint and common sense I don't know what we are supposed to do to mend the health care system. I do know this much though, in a caring and compassionate society, nobody goes to the bottom of the list.

View tri-hospital committee. Olds General Hospital will close 20 beds and Sundre will close 16. The closures reduce the available acute care bed space in the county to 71 from 119.

But while the bed closures may seem like a drastic measure, Stabblar said it was one of the least disruptive cutbacks the hospitals could make in light of funding reductions.

"In our hospital the average occupation was between 40 and 65 percent over the past three years," he said. "We had been staffing at 100 percent so each patient was getting a little more attention. We don't think this cutback will affect the patients directly."

But hospital jobs will be impacted by the closures. Stabblar said 3 full time positions will be lost once the beds are closed on October 4.

"Even though we are saving the money, it doesn't mean that jobs are necessarily lost," he said. "There are other jobs that are available that they can apply for. It may mean a lesser position or fewer hours, but there are jobs there."

The loss of nursing hours follows closely on the heels of staffing reductions in support areas of the hospital. Stabblar said cutbacks were made in July when the province announced a 2 percent reduction, retroactive to April, which cost the hospital $66,000.

"Some people took less hours and some positions were actually eliminated (through this cutback)," Stabblar said. "In October, we are beginning a voluntary leave of absence program for the staff for positions that don't have to be replaced, in areas like medical records, recreation therapy or nursing administration. Administration is going to be closed an extra day per month and we expect that will give us a 5 percent cost reduction."

With more bad news about provincial funding for hospitals expected this November, Stabblar said the tri-hospital committee is continuing to look into areas where possible cuts could be made.

"(But) we feel we have trimmed our costs pretty much in every area," he said. "If you look at an area like long term care, in most cases of staffing we are down to the bare minimum and we have 100 percent occupancy. Where do we cut?"

One possible avenue of savings could come through staff salary roll backs, but Stabblar said negotiations with unions won't take place until next year.

In the meantime, hospital boards are anxiously awaiting final reports from the province's health care round table meetings. Stabblar said they expect to hear more about further cutbacks and possible solutions near the end of November when the meetings are completed.

RCMP report

It's that time of year again when the days get shorter and students return to yet another school year. In Didsbury and Carstairs, the schools, in conjunction with the Alberta Motor Association, participate in the School Patrol Program.

Parents may have seen the School Patrollers in action. They are the students who control crosswalks across busy intersections, allowing for the safe passage of fellow students. Their job is taken seriously and they are instructed to take down license plate numbers of any vehicle which is causing a problem as well as to write down a description of the incident, which is given to police for follow-up. Bearing this in mind, it is hoped that everyone will be more cautious while travelling through school zones this year.

During the month of August, Didsbury R.C.M.P. responded to a total of 337 complaints. Of these 72 were criminal code related, 24 motor vehicle accidents were reported including one fatal, 70 traffic tickets, 27 written warnings and 3 liquor tickets were issued.

Hospital Corner

Acute Care Bed Closures

In response to provincially mandated reductions in health care funding and the recommendations in the Tri-Hospitals Strategic Needs Analysis study completed this year, the Boards of the Mountain View Health Care Centre, the Olds General Hospital and the Sundre Hospital have agreed to close 48 of a total of 119 acute care beds in the three district.

Acute care beds in Didsbury will be reduced from 35 to 20, in Olds from 50 to 33 and in Sundre from 34 to 18.

Staff positions and hours of work will be reduced in all of these facilities in an effort to provide services with less funding from the Province. Other strategies for reductions in operating expenses are being investigated by the three Boards in an ongoing effort to maintain appropriate health care services locally with shrinking budgets.

The closure of 15 beds in Didsbury is scheduled for October 4, 1993. If you have any questions, please direct them to Dennis Stabblar, Executive Director (335-9393).

Charges considered in pedestrian accident

Olds RCMP are considering laying charges against a 19-year-old Olds man after a younger man was run over by a truck near Cipperly's Pond this weekend.

The man, who was not identified by police, may be charged with impaired driving according to Olds RCMP who are continuing to investigate the incident.

cident.

Police said they were called to the private campground area at Cipperly's Pond early Saturday morning after a 17-year-old male was run over by a truck during a camp-out. The man had been lying across the gravel road and the grassy shoulder when the accident occurred.

STARS air ambulance was called to airlift the 17-year-old to a Calgary hospital for treatment of injuries to his chest and head. He has been listed in stable condition and the injuries are not considered life threatening.

Police said they believe alcohol was a factor in the accident.

In the red

Staff, students and other volunteers learned about being in the red last Friday when they dipped in their brushes and helped to paint the historic horse barn to a traditional barn red. The college organized the re-painting into a party, winding up the volunteer efforts with a dinner and dance on the grounds near the barn.

Disappointing results

The Didsbury Read-In, celebrated as part of World Literacy Day, brought more disappointing results.

Didsbury's challenge to Hanna was again lost when only 29 percent of the population phoned-in their reading time last week.

Hanna, with a population of 3017, recorded 43 percent participation in the event.

Other county event results saw Olds defeat Stettler 32 percent to 30 percent. Carstairs more than doubled their results from last year, recording 781 participants as opposed to 370 from 1992. Sundre lost its bid to beat its record from last year, with only 988 participants.

But while the numbers weren't great, Project Read Soon Coordinator Elaine Graham said the point of the event was to promote literacy.

"We had a really good cross section of people reading this year and that is really great," she said.

The Read-In event is the largest promotion run by Project Read Soon and plans are already underway to organize the event for next year.

Realistic measure

No doubt the recent announcement of bed closures in the acute care side of the Didsbury hospital will ruffle some feathers in town but the move is a realistic one on the part of the hospital board.

Granted jobs will be lost and the luxury of care may decline, but in a situation where the hospital is being forced to trim its budget by 25 percent, or $2 million, it seems to be the path of least resistance.

The Mountain View Health Care Centre is the largest hospital in this county. Between the acute care and the long term care wards, we have the most beds and, as follows, the largest budget. It is logical then to assume that the provincial cutbacks will create the largest impact on our hospital.

Where then, can the money be trimmed when the province stops sending the cash? Many are considering the possibility of closing rural hospitals but that leaves no one any further ahead. We only transfer the problem to the city. It doesn't cost any less to treat a patient in the city hospitals and transportation costs would only add to the price tag.

Closing the hospital also adds to the unemployment problem. We still have to pay tax dollars to put into the UIC problem. Any provincial official who feels that is at least getting the problem out of their deficit is hypocritical. Provincial governments have been complaining for the past decade about the federal government rolling more and more responsibility on the provinces' backs. A sluff-off tennis match between the two levels of government is certainly not a solution.

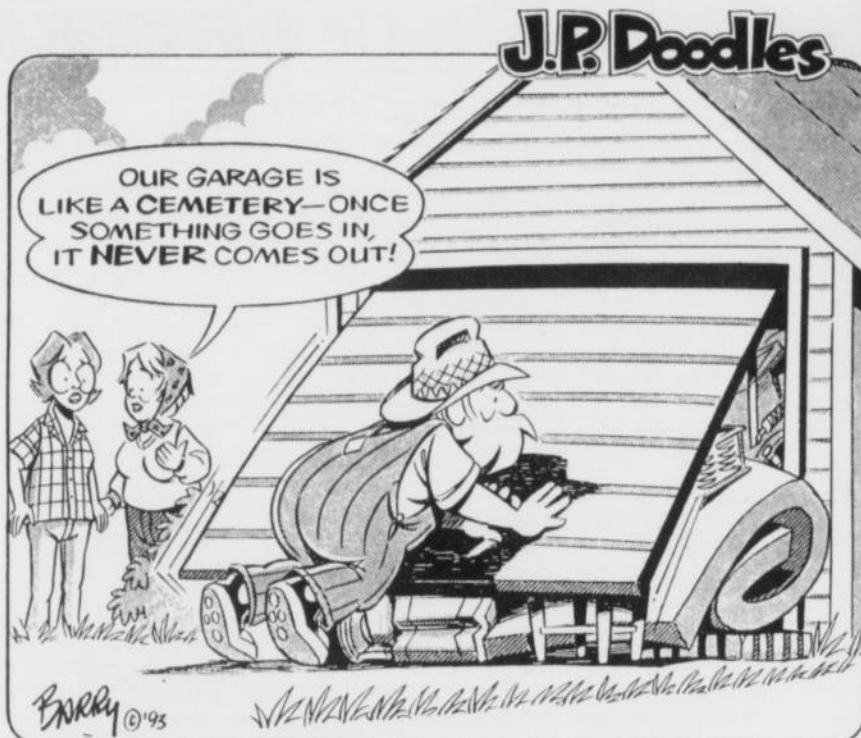

So where do we come up with the 25 percent Alberta Health wants to chop from hospital budgets? One possible solution been discussed is wage roll backs. Premier Klein says a 5 to 10 percent wage roll back from unionized employees would cover that 25 percent. Seems like an easy solution. Employees would be forced to get by on less (like many of the rest of us in private industry have), but at least they could keep their jobs. The problem here is leadership. If Klein wants the employees to take a cut, he and his colleagues should be setting the example.

Whatever the solution turns out to be, as a community we need to be involved in the process and informed about what is going on rather than partaking in coffee shop philosophizing. These kind of decisions shouldn't be made without our involvement, after all, it is our hospital.

Quote of the week

"I had to wedge myself into these jeans... Since I have been on the campaign (trail), I've been complaining about not getting any exercise. But I think I burned about 300 calories just trying to get the zipper done up."

Regarding Beatrice Foods loan

Dear Editor:

I have had a number of calls regarding the loan made to Beatrice Foods Inc. for the construction of an $11 million dollar plant to manufacture cookies, the only such plant in western Canada. The loan term is for 5 years and will be secured by a first mortgage on the plant together with a promissory note for the full amount. This proposal was supported by the Soft Wheat Producers Commissions, the canola and sugar beet growers, and dairy farmers, all of whose products will be used in production of the cookies.

This project was brought forward under the Canada Alberta Partnership on Agrifood (CAPA) program. This program was established in 1992 by joint partnership of the provincial and federal governments to promote unique value-added industry to promote greater utilization of raw farm products. The loans are handled through Alberta Development Corporation and all the normal business financial assessment criteria was used and a commitment made. I challenged our involvement on principle.

Projections indicate that the plant will purchase and use annually more than two million kilograms of soft wheat flour, 600,000 kilograms of beet sugar, 228,000 kilograms of canola oil, as well as significant amounts of butter, eggs, oats and honey. The plant will employ 150 people and will increase employment to 250 over 2-3 years, and hire an additional 100 people during construction.

On Wednesday, I intend to present Bill 204, amendments to the Stray Animals Act which I have introduced. This will bring "wild" horses under the jurisdiction of this Act and enable the control and method of capture to be established as required.

Recently the Provincial Treasurer brought out a Quarterly Report. This is an entirely new procedure which will monitor the annual budget every three months so there won't be any more year end surprises. It is quite an undertaking but I heartily approve the initiative and I feel that it will keep all of us better informed of our current financial status.

If you have any questions about any of the foregoing, or any other, please contact my constituency office at 556-3132 or my Edmonton office at 427-1812 (collect).

The loss of Reform

Dear Editor:

As a founding member of the Peterborough Reform Party (Feb. 1990) I have seen this party swing from the left of centre over to the far right as more and more misplaced Tories have come in, and watched with dismay as the true Reformers have become disillusioned and left.

The Reform Party is trying to convince Canadians that they are a democratic party with Christian values, but when you question the fact that their actions do not match their words, they will try to reassure you by stating that this party is the only party who believes so strongly in democracy that they have written it down for everyone to see.

The reality is that they have no intention of practising what they preach, the name of the game is power, and to obtain power you have to win, and as Bangma has demonstrated in the past, how you win is not important, just as long as you win.

By no stretch of the imagination, either at the local level or the national level can you call this

Concerns on access to information bill

Dear Editor:

Since 1989 the Alberta Liberal Caucus has made effective Freedom of Information legislation a priority for Alberta. Residents of Alberta, PEI and the Northwest Territories are the only people in Canada who lack a law that guarantees them access to government files. I believe this to be a fundamental right that all Canadians should enjoy.

This past spring Premier Klein introduced, but did not pass, his own version of Freedom of Information -- he called it Access to Information. Unfortunately for Albertans, this proposed bill is seriously deficient in a number of areas.

Examples of information not available under the government's proposed Access to Information Legislation:

- Details on the NovAtel loan agreements with US cellular firms;

Where did the $645 million in Albertan taxpayers' money go?

- Details of Ministers' travel expenses and foreign trips by MLAs: In 1993 retiring MLAs John Oldring and Dennis Anderson were sent on an Asian trip -- no list of benefits or detailed costs was ever provided.

- Details on government leases. In 1993 a leaked copy of a lease agreement between Olympia & York and the government revealed that the taxpayers were paying $8 per square foot over market rates, an extra $4 million per year.

I urge all Albertans to become as educated as possible on what makes an effective Freedom of Information law, and why the government's proposal is not sufficient. Information belongs to the people, not the government in office. The government's proposed bill will not deliver the openness and accountability that Albertans expect.

For a copy of the Alberta Liberal Caucus response to Freedom of Information, please contact your local Liberal constituency office or the Liberal Caucus office at 9718 - 107 Street, Edmonton, T5K 1E4. Phone: 427-2293.

Sincerely yours,
Gary Dickson, MLA

Round table revelations

Dear Editor:

This week Alberta Advanced Education announced the dates of the round tables to involve the public in a discussion of the future of adult learning in our province. The materials issued to direct discussion suggested that colleges, universities, technical institutes, and other adult programs are at terrible risk. I urge, and plead with all those interested to call 1-800-465-4597 and obtain a set of these materials.

It's abundantly clear that there will be little discussion of the substance of post secondary education. The proposed mission statement is a management menu. The suggested issues are management issues. If this administrative agenda is allowed to prevail there is no need for the round tables. We can write the conclusions now. Their management system is straight from the sixties, including performance objectives, evaluations, more use of technology, fewer people; and lowered wages. It didn't work then and it won't work now.

In a closed door meeting in July with adult education leaders, the Minister of Advanced Education suggested that it would not be unreasonable for them to enact a 15 percent cut in their budgets. That is the real agenda for the round tables. Participants will be forced to talk about management concerns and in the process, legitimize the devastating cuts the Minister has proposed.

The agenda must be changed. Adult learners in our province deserve better. Our schools of advanced learning deserve better. The round tables must address the goals of post secondary education. Are we happy with all university research being tied to the corporate sector? What knowledge should college students explore? How narrow should our technical programs become? Only after we decide what should be the nature of programs in our advanced schools should we turn to mundane matters of management.

During the election Albertans were promised public consultation would be the order of the day. They expect to be consulted on the heart of matters not proposed bureaucratic tinkering.

Yours truly,
Don Massey, MLA
Liberal Advanced Education Critic

8215 - 112 Street
Edmonton, Alberta
Suite 701, J.J. Bowlen Building
620 - 7 Avenue S.W.
Calgary, Alberta

The properties offered are categorized as follows:

1. Undeveloped land owned by the ALCB
2. Land and buildings owned by the ALCB
3. Buildings owned by the ALCB on leased land
4. Leased land and buildings
5. Premises leased in Provincial Government buildings
6. Prepaid leases

Submit proposals to:

Manager, Tender Administration Branch
Alberta Public Works, Supply and Services
16th Floor, College Plaza, 8215 - 112 Street
Edmonton, Alberta T6G 5A9

It is strongly recommended that the prospective purchaser perform a title search, visit the property, and check the lease agreements located at the respective stores. Copies of available lease documentation may also be viewed at the APWSS offices listed above. Any subsequent inquiries will be addressed by APWSS, Edmonton. For owned properties call 427-6179; for leased properties call 427-7644.

The buildings are being sold with or without all of the fixtures, furniture and equipment included. The proposal submission is to indicate if the fixtures, furniture and equipment are included.

Proposals for the leased premises are to provide two separate prices - one price for the lease and the second price for the tenant improvements, furniture, fixtures and all equipment (as is). Proposals may be submitted for the lease only if the prospective purchaser has no interest in the furniture, fixtures and equipment.

Liquor stock is not for sale with any of the properties.

The ALCB makes no claim or warranties as to the condition of the buildings or equipment.

The highest, or any proposal, will not necessarily be accepted. Proposals must be open for acceptance for a minimum of 60 days.

A licence to operate a liquor store must be separately applied for through the Alberta Liquor Control Board at 458-4311 (St. Albert) or 292-7200 (Calgary). For sales information on a particular ALCB store, contact either the store manager or phone the ALCB at the numbers given in this paragraph.

News from the Dragons' Den

1993 and 1994 are years of historic celebration for Didsbury High School. Open up the new student organizers (given to students upon registration) and you will find a school map. Look a bit closer; read the small print; now you will see... construction of the east-wing of the high school began in 1953 - forty short years ago and was completed in 1954. Its first graduating class will be 56 years young and perhaps seeing a few grandchildren entering the system. If you are one of this school's first group of senior high students write to the school and tell us about some of your experiences. Have "times changed" or is it true that "what goes around comes around"?

Without a doubt time has brought some change. It is with regret that DHS said a goodbye to Mr. Marty Overguard, the long-time vice-principal for the school. Hopefully he will return after a one-year teaching placement at Westglen. On to the new... we proudly welcome Mr. Steve Thompson to the vice-principalship where he will assist Mr. Ian Taylor while continuing his past Chemistry and Math assignments. Staff changes are few at Didsbury High with only one new teacher, Miss Cat Turner who has returned to our English department.

Courses are also changing with time. The Science 10 program implemented last fall now continues with the introduction of a series of new 20 level science courses. The French program is being restructured and renamed. New texts and units are being used with students at every level along with an emphasis on developing lessons in teams of teachers. For more information please feel welcome to attend the Meet-the-Teacher Night scheduled for Wednesday evening. (Mr. Thompson promises hot coffee and fresh donuts.)

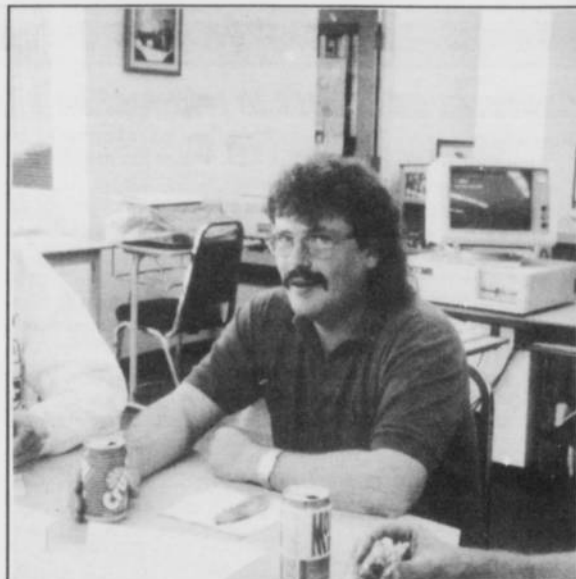

Probably the most obvious change for students, staff, and visitors is our new or rather renewed office. The brown panelling is gone and white walls, new carpeting, and more lighting have given the area a great recovery.

We must be sure to give special thanks to AG Foods for the new set of Encyclopedia in our Library. We would also like to thank the cleaning staff for giving DHS that great polish over the summer.

Returning this fall is the superb coaching talents of Mr. Drever (for volleyball and golf) and Miss Baker (for volleyball and cross-country running). Sports updates will be written in the weeks and months to follow. If you wish to watch a game, you are welcome to contact the physical education office for times and locations. The students would welcome your support.

Yes, the summer that never was has ended and the school year is well on its way. Tests have been given, reviews are being finished and homework is being assigned. Our students are very busy and we wish each success, with special recognition to our grade twelves who must work very hard for college and university placements.

Degree courses offered at Olds College

Beginning this month, Olds College will be offering two additional core university courses: Biology 230 - Human Physiology and English 225 - Introductory Composition.

This unique opportunity allows learners to work towards earning their degree without having to attend a university - an arrangement formed last January between Athabasca University and Olds College's Department of Business and Academic Support. Together, the institutions are able to pair individualized instruction with universally-accepted course material.

Academic Coordinator of Agriculture Business, Garth Davis says the idea to host more courses came from numerous requests, both inside and outside the College. "Following a healthy response to the initial course offerings of Math 215 and Philosophy 252, we simply had no choice but to continue on with similar courses this fall. The demand is definitely there."

Davis explains that both courses are fully accredited and are the same calibre as those offered through Athabasca University for Business and Nursing majors.

"The process to arrange these courses with the people at Athabasca University went very smoothly. Basically, the format that will be used with these courses is no different than that offered by universities in either Edmonton or Calgary...we are simply more convenient."

This is not the first time Olds College has worked with Athabasca University in the interest of students. Courses available at the College have often been recognized by the University's credit point system when applicable to a degree program.

"We feel this is a healthy extension of the working relationship we have held with the University in the past," Davis comments.

English 225 - Introductory Composition began on September 20th, and is offered every Monday evening from 6 to 9 p.m. until December 13th. Biology 230 - Human Physiology starts September 21st and runs through to December 20th, Tuesdays between 6 and 9 p.m.

If you are interested in learning more about registering for either the English or Biology courses, please contact Academic Coordinator of Agriculture Business, Garth Davis at (403) 556-8335.

Mount View Health Unit news

by Liz Gillis, Social Worker
Home Care Program

"I don't know what to say...."

Throughout our lives, all of us will experience many losses. Typically, loss is associated with the death of a family member or friend. The death of a loved one may be the most significant type of loss, but there are many other types of losses we need to grieve. Examples are the loss of a pet, losing your job, decline in physical health, moving from your home, or break up of a relationship. As a Social Worker with Mount View Health Unit, people often ask me what they should say or do for a friend or relative who is experiencing grief as a result of loss. Here is some information and suggestions that may help you be supportive to people in your life that are grieving:

1. It is important to understand that the act of grieving is a normal, healthy and natural reaction to loss of any kind. Grieving is necessary to recover from the experience of loss.

2. Every person will have their own way to grieve over a loss. There is no right or wrong way to grieve, as it is an individual process. People who experience loss may withdraw from others; feel angry; keep very active; experience trouble sleeping and eating; loose interest in hobbies, etc. Remember that no two people will grieve in the same manner.

3. Too often, we do not acknowledge or recognize a person's loss because of our own discomfort and feeling of helplessness. People need to talk about their experience of loss. Don't avoid friends or family who are grieving.

4. The most valuable support you can offer a friend who is grieving is your companionship and presence. Even though grieving is an individual process, this does not mean you have to go through the pain and loss alone.

5. While visiting with a grieving person, try to do more listening than talking or sharing advice. When grieving, we need people to listen to our feeling, thoughts and experiences.

6. It is important to avoid statements that assume or judge how the grieving person is feeling - such as: "I know how you feel" or "Your life will turn around, stop worrying." When someone is sharing their feeling of loss, there is no advice or remedies to ease their pain. The only way to heal the emotional pain of loss is to feel it and go through it. Your grieving friend or relation needs to have a good listener.

The boys were among 67 participants who ran, jogged, walked, biked or rollerbladed in the event, raising $2521 for cancer research.

7. People who are grieving may not know how to ask for support from friends and family. Rather than asking the question "How can I help?", offer specific ways you can help such as walking the dog; bringing over a meal; caring for children; making phone calls, mowing the lawn, etc. This will give you an opportunity to feel helpful and at the same time accomplish tasks that may go unattended.

The Terry Fox Marathon of Hope: An enlightening run

by Maureen Lynn
Review writer

I silently cursed by way up the small embankment over the tracks by Didsbury's Hi Ho Sunday. The wind was making it harder than usual to catch my breath and the burn I felt in my quads the first loop around was now a cramp. Why, oh why, did I agree with my companion to go the kilometres.

Coming up our left were two elderly women, both in wind-breakers and kerchiefs strolling along, conversing and waving their hands in effort to describe some experience unbeknownst to us. As we passed, I could just make out the tone of one of the women's voices. It rang out much younger and energetic than I anticipated. Looking back, I saw she was smiling. I felt I must get to know this person, if only to figure out her recipe for contentment on such a miserable, blustery day.

This is the story of the woman I met: (her name has been withheld by request-for the purposes of this article, we refer to her as Helen).

She was busy visiting with her friend when I approached her. Despite the lengthy walk Helen, 71, appeared invigorated by the activity. After brief introductions, she told me this was the first time she has participated in the annual run.

Supporting a worthy cause - regardless of the reason - need never be a topic of scrutiny, yet I wouldn't help but wonder what motivated this vibrant woman to do her part.

"I have cancer," she informed me. The words were plain and shameless and somehow frightening to absorb. She didn't flinch when she recited them and smiled warmly at my embarrassment when I asked her how long she has known...for about a year now. They (the doctors) removed pretty near all of it when I was in hospital;...I'm fine now."

Helen explained how she discovered her condition literally by accident after being rushed to the hospital suffering broken ribs from a crashing her car. "We really need a better system for detecting this disease. I'd always gone for my annual physicals and they never revealed anything like this...it's so painless. You don't realize what's growing inside of you until it's often too late."

While in hospital, the doctors were forced to replace a valve in Helen's heart that mysteriously had begun malfunctioning. It wasn't until after performing several tests, however, that specialists got to the root of her problem - cancerous polyps on her bowel.

Helen didn't say how she took the news. It seemed a pointless question. Anyone seeing her now would find it difficult to visualize any other emotion to pass her face than that of peace and happiness. I was among them.

Perhaps part of the secret to Helen's success in dealing with cancer now lies in her lifestyle. "I walk two miles every other day and when I'm not doing that, I go to aquasizes. I just love staying active. I feel better now than I did twenty years ago", she said proudly.

She has no intention of slowing down either, and jokingly credits the extra activity to keeping herself young.

Helen was just one of 67 participants in Sunday's event. Altogether, over 2500 was raised towards cancer research. All received a small metallic sticker to add to their Terry Fox posters serving commemorating their efforts to bring us that much closer to a cure.

And Helen says she's thankful to be here...now which leg was it that had the cramp?

Checker expanding lines

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

Step into Checker Auto Parts these days and you may see more than you expected.

Once a bastion of automotive parts for the backyard and professional mechanic, the store now boasts an expanded supply of parts for farm machinery and industrial equipment as well.

"We really wanted to increase our inventory and we would like to continue to increase it if we can afford it," said Craig Anderson, who owns Checker along with brother Brad Anderson. "That is why we are doing things slowly, just as we can afford it."

Craig, who has been in the automotives industry for 15 years, bought into Checker 8 years ago along with a Calgary partner. He and Brad bought out the partner 3 years ago and have been running the business on their own ever since. While both are happy with the business and enjoy living in Didsbury, they also wish for more traffic through the store doors.

"I guess we would like to see more business; it has been picking up somewhat in the last month or so," Craig said. "I think (the slow time) is partially due to the recession, but I also think people just don't realize what we have here."

"We have everything you need for equipment repair," he said. "Hydraulic hoses, agricultural bearings, welding supplies, automotive paint, industrial equipment. And anything you don't find, we can order in for you."

"I think that once people see the kinds of things we carry, business will improve," he added. "But we also plan to continue expanding our supplies as well. We would like to be a one stop kind of place for equipment and automotive repair."

Checker is open Monday through Saturday.

Parts from A to Z

Craig Anderson said Checker Auto Parts is expanding their supply to include parts from all makes of automobiles, farm equipment and industrial machinery.

Mid-summer price rally in livestock markets

Cattle and hog producers enjoyed some unusual price strength during the summer says an Alberta Agriculture market analyst.

"Slaughter cattle markets had an uncommon mid-summer price rally, feeder cattle prices hit some record highs and hog prices also showed some unexpected strength," says Ron Gietz.

From late July through mid-August slaughter cattle producers enjoyed an unusual mid-summer price rally. "U.S. packers aggressively purchased live cattle for three consecutive weeks," he notes. "This packer demand was encouraged by positive margins, and might have been related to depleted supplies in the pipeline and improved retail interest ahead of the Labor Day long weekend.

"As well, Canadian producers benefited from both the strength in the U.S. market and a rapidly falling Canadian dollar," he adds.

Large volumes of marketings in late July and early August compensated for low slaughter volumes through most of July. Gietz notes there are large inventories of slaughter cattle to be marketed in late summer and early fall according to the most recent cattle on feed reports.

Fed cattle markets continued their trend of one bullish surprise after another. "The early August rally in fed cattle prices triggered an additional surge in optimism in the feeder markets, resulting in some record high prices," he says. "And as of late August, Western Canadian feeder cattle markets showed no hint of lower prices."

Seasonally tight supplies are one reason prices have been "chased higher" he adds. "A better test of market strength will come when marketings increase sharply by October."

Similar to the cattle markets, U.S. slaughter hog markets came up with unexpected price strength in August. They rallied to a $50 (U.S.)/cwt. level and held their gain through to late August. "Lower-than-expected slaughter volumes were again instrumental in the latest slaughter hog price gains, as was the case this winter and spring," he says.

Canadian hog producers also benefited from a further slide in the Canada U.S. dollar exchange rate during August. "The combination of a strengthening U.S. market and a lower Canadian dollar were sufficient to reach new annual highs for Alberta slaughter hog prices in late August," says Gietz.

Gietz's outlook is for Alberta Index 100 hogs to average $1.55/kg through September, falling to $1.35 in December. "Long term price prospects are a big question mark," he adds. "There's a discrepancy between USDA inventory estimates and actual production, the U.S. corn and soybean crops are unknown and widespread frost could play havoc with feed costs."

"But, normal fall weather could lead to moderate feed costs and a continuation of what is already one of the longest herd expansions on record."

Fall ideal time for herbicides

"Farmers have said for years that fall is the best time to apply pre-emergent herbicides to control wild oats next spring," says John Trenholm, crop production advisor for Parkland Agri Services in Didsbury.

"Of course the fall is most convenient for many farmers since they generally have more time," he explains, adding that an increasing number of prairie farmers are starting their fertilizer and wild oat control programs in the fall. "This way they get two important jobs done ahead of time, rather than waiting until spring, when time can be very limited."

Trenholm expects the trend towards combining herbicide and fertilizer applications to continue again this fall. "After all, combining wild oat treatments like Avadex BW with fertilizer applications can cut application and incorporation costs in half."

"A key option open to farmers wishing to combine fertilizer and herbicide applications is to broadcast Avadex, Treflan or Edge blended with dry fertilizer. The fertilizer particles are coated with the herbicide and act as a herbicide carrier when applied," Trenholm said.

"This method reduces passes over the field, and is an effective way to handle wild oats, many farmer's number one weed problem, before they emerge and start competing with the crop for moisture and nutrients next spring," he concludes.

In addition to having the best wild oat control program in place, the fertilizer will also be ready and waiting for early crop growth. Consequently farmers can begin seeding earlier in the spring yielding bigger dividends.

John Trenholm is a crop production advisor for Parkland Agri Services in the Didsbury-Olds area.

RELIGION

The Way of Life

by Rev. John Orman, Rector
St. Cyprian's Anglican Church

Duty to God versus duty to state

This last twelve months or so has been a season for voting! We have been invited to share in the process of electing local town councillors, provincial M.L.A.'s and now federal representatives. We are invited to do this at a time when the media reports that voter concerns and disillusionment are at record highs.

Have you ever considered what Jesus would do if he were here in Didsbury now? What advice might Jesus offer if he was walking in human form through the towns and farms and villages of central Alberta? To consider this seriously may shed some new light on how to deal with the issues of our time.

The first question to answer is "would Jesus have voted?" One possible clue to this answer may be found in Mark's Gospel (Ch. 12 v 13 - 17). Here we have the story of Pharisees and Herodians asking Jesus "Is it lawful to pay taxes to the emperor, or not?" It was a question designed to trap Jesus because failure to pay Roman taxes would result in a penalty much more severe than under our tax laws while for a Jew to pay the ruling power surely acknowledged the importance of the emperor and diminished the importance of God. Jesus answered with his famous comment "Give to the emperor the things that are the emperor's, and to God the things that are God's."

Some interpret this as saying "do your civic duty" Saint Paul, in his writings also confirmed this duty to the state. An example is in Romans chapter 13, verse 1. "Let every person be subject to the governing authorities; for there is no authority except from God." While we might well question this line of thought if we lived under some of the notorious political systems that exist, in general in western countries we have many advantages and freedoms and acknowledge religious freedom, so that surely strengthens the rationale for civic duty!

But who to vote for? That of course is a very private matter and decisions are reached by each individual after considering the issues in their own way. For reflection though we might ask another question. "Who would Jesus have voted for?"

Here the clues are complex and no definitive answer can be concluded. In terms of stewardship and management there are several stories about good stewards. People who managed resources well. This is certainly an issue in this election with concerns about deficits and who in society should bear the burdens most or least. It is food for thought!

But Jesus was equally concerned about the poor, the sick, those with emotional difficulties or concerns because of guilt. Two thousand years after Jesus's earthly ministry these questions are still with us. The questions of how best to provide jobs and support services and education and health care. It gives more food for thought!

The first Christian election is recorded in Acts chapter one. Following the suicide of Judas who had betrayed Jesus, the remaining eleven needed to elect a replacement so that they would still be a group of twelve. In Acts 1 verse 23 it says "so they proposed two, Joseph...who was also known as Justus, and Matthias. Then they prayed..."

In order to make the decision they prayed. At a time of national and international uncertainty when we sometimes wonder that the next day will bring, much less what the next fifty years may bring that is election advice that is still current and up to date. Let us pray that we are guided by God's will whether to vote and if we do, to vote as he would if he were here. As the greatest man that ever lived and the most influential in western history there can be no one better to follow.

New association executive announced

by Rev. John Orman, President
Didsbury Ministerial Association

The Didsbury and District Ministerial Association has announced that it is continuing with its community involvement led this year by a new executive. This year the president is Rev. John Orman, Rector of St. Cyprian's Anglican Church. The vice president is Pastor Norman Zimmerman from Didsbury Missionary Church and the secretary/treasurer is pastor Bruce Wiebe from Berghal Mennonite Church. The new board thanks went to outgoing president Tom Hilchie and outgoing secretary/treasurer Richard Pahl for their work.

Each month the clergy and pastors in the southern half of the county of Mountain View get together to share concerns, listen to speakers and to conduct business. Many people may not realize that this group provides pastoral care to as many as possible in the Mountain View Health Care Centre and Chinook Winds Lodge in Carstairs. In addition to visits by the ordained leadership, visits are organized by members of congregations and each church that wishes to be included is assigned a particular week approximately four times a year for visiting and conducting an evening service at the hospital.

Many community activities are undertaken on a joint basis with articles being provided for this newspaper on a rotating basis, and support for the community Remembrance Day service and also a joint Christmas service at the hospital.

Last year "The Cotton Patch Gospel" was presented by Rosebud Theatre here in Didsbury and the profit of $1,240.00 was presented to the Build Our Pool Society. On February 6th, 1994, Rosebud Theatre will present "The Furniture Of Heaven" here in Didsbury. Profits will go to local charities or areas of need and the executive is prepared to consider suggestions from the community. Please watch for more information nearer the time.

The constitution states the purpose of the association as follows: "To minister the gospel and love of Jesus Christ to this community through co-operative endeavours." Your support and suggestions are encouraged.

OBITUARIES

CHRISTENSEN

Ruby Hazel Christensen was born in Olds on December 13, 1912. She was the second of four children and only daughter of Orville and Malew Fified. The family lived in the Westerdale area until Orville passed away during the 1917 flu epidemic. Her mother Malew later married Peter Ebbesen and together had four children: Carl, Elsie, Opal and George. Her brothers from her mother's first marriage - Bill, Harry and Frank predeceased her, leaving Ruby the last remaining member of the Fified family. For years as the oldest member of both families she has been regarded and respected as the family matriarch.

Ruby met a young Danish boy - Holger (Jackie) Christensen, while both were working on separate farms east of Olds. Their courtship consisted of working long days and Holger walking across the fields to visit Ruby in the evening. They married in Calgary on November 26, 1934. Two of their three children, Howard and Irene, were born before Holger went overseas for four years during WW II. Ruby remained in Olds and looked after the two children and worked for various businesses in Olds. Upon returning from overseas the family relocated to the Zella District to farm where their third child Rita was born.

Ruby was very active in the community, serving on various boards - the Zella Women's Institute, the Zella United Church, and the Zella Girls Club. The very close friendships that were developed during the years at Zella have continued to grow and remain strong to this day.

STATHAM

Daisy Statham, after a brief illness, passed away quietly in the Mountain View Health Care Centre, Didsbury, September 15, 1993, at the age of 79 years.

Daisy will be forever remembered by her loving husband John, daughters Jean (Sid) Postlethwaite of Ashern, Manitoba, Anita (Barry) McGrath of Calgary, Brenda (Doug) Parker of Sardis, B.C., sons Jack (Diane) and Dennis (Jo-Ann) both of Calgary.

She is also survived by 16 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. Daisy was predeceased by her infant son Duncan.

Daisy was born in Forres,

In the mid 60's, Ruby and Holger semi-retired and moved to Olds. Ruby worked in various stores for the next several years. She became a member of the Olds Nazarene Church, the Community Choir, the Evergreen Club, and the Friendly Visitors Organization. She continued as a member of the Zella WI and took up golfing in her 70's - visiting with her golfing partners and having lunch were the highlights of her golf fame. She moved into the Olds Mountain View Lodge in the fall of 1991, where she made new friends and renewed old acquaintances.

Ruby will always be remembered for her loving and caring ways. She was a friend to all, and never said a hurtful word about anyone. She had a love of nature, music, handicrafts; but mostly, Ruby had a love for her family, her friends, and her Lord.

In 1980 Ruby lost her lifemate, Holger. Her daughter-in-law Eileen Christensen, sister and brother-in-law Elsie and Harold Stromscoe, and sister Opal Christensen all passed away with Ruby on September 7, 1993 in Cochrane, Alberta.

She is survived by three children: Howard and his sons Randy and Colin, all of Harmattan; Irene and her husband Norman Hookes of Sechelt, B.C., and Irene's children Terry, Toby and Murray all of B.C.; Rita and her husband Bob Weir and their children Krista and Grayson all of Whitecourt, Alberta, and brothers Carl and George Ebbesen and wives Jesse and Jackie all of Kevissville as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

Morayshire, Scotland on December 8, 1913. She immigrated to Canada in 1926 with her parents, two sisters and one brother.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, September 18, 1993 at 2 p.m. from the Carstairs United Church with Reverend Dr. Ken Jordan officiating. Interment followed in the Carstairs cemetery. If friends desire, memorial donations may be given to the Alberta Heart & Stroke Foundation #101, 5208 53rd Avenue, Red Deer, Alberta T4N 9Z9.

Mountain View Funeral Chapels, Didsbury entrusted with arrangements.

CHRISTENSEN

Agnes Eileen Christensen was born in Calgary on December 23, 1938. She was the oldest of four children of Evelyn and Les Morrison of Eagle Hill, Alberta.

She attended grade school in Eagle Hill and high school in Sundre. After high school she lived in Calgary with her Aunt Elsie and Uncle P.N.R. Morrison and completed a secretarial course. She returned to Eagle Hill and helped her parents on the family farm.

Eileen married Howard Christensen in 1959 and farmed with her husband and two sons in the Zella District. Since the early 1970's she and her family have become very involved with the breeding and raising of Limousin cattle. She was a member of the Westerdale United Church where she served on the board as secretary-treasurer for several years.

Eileen always has had a great love for all animals, especially horses, dogs and cats. It wasn't unusual for Eileen to have several strays in her home where they were cared for.

Music and photography brought great pleasure to her which she shared with her family and friends. She took pride in her photography and won several awards at local competitions.

Since 1981 young agricultural trainees from around the world worked on the farm with Eileen and her family. Many have become extended members of the Christensen family and maintained close contact.

Friends and family always knew that Eileen was there to help in their times of need. She always maintained close contact with her mother and father, Les and Evelyn Morrison and during times of illness gave loving care and support. She provided love and companionship to her mother-in-law Ruby and in recent years developed a special friendship between herself and her two Aunts, Elsie and Opal.

Eileen is survived by her husband Howard and two sons Randy and Colin all of Zella, her father Les Morrison of Olds, brother Gary of Athabasca, sister Jean and her husband Fred Stout of Stony Plain, sisters-in-law Irene and Rita and their husbands Norman Hookes and Bob Weir, as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

She was predeceased by her father-in-law Holger in 1980, her mother Evelyn in 1987, her sister Norma Ross in 1989 and brother-in-law Paul Ross in 1993.

Some words of encouragement that she shared with her sons were: In this world, One thing is certain,

There would be far less strife, If the Golden Rule we've committed to memory,

Were instead committed to Life

SUTHERLAND

Lucy Armine Sutherland (nee Wilson) was born at Mound City, Missouri, March 19, 1903. In 1906 she came with her parents, Charles and Cora Wilson, to Alberta on an immigrant train.

They settled first at Airdrie, remaining there for one year until taking up a homestead in the Elkton area where they lived for three years. Then they moved to the Didsbury area, where the family farmed for many years in the Rosebud School community.

Lucy decided at an early age that she was going to be a nurse, and after attending Rosebud Rural School and Didsbury High, she entered the Calgary General Hospital Training School, graduating in 1927 with the R.N. degree. Her first job was in the Drumheller Municipal Hospital where she served for more than 40 years. In Drumheller she met and later married her husband Robert Sutherland. She continued her nursing career until her husband's death in 1974.

There were no children, so in 1975 she sold her Drumheller home and moved to Olds to be nearer to the remaining members of her family. In Olds she had resided in Kiwanis Manor until moving to Mount View Lodge which was her home until 1992, when she became a hospital patient, first in the Olds Hospital, then in the Didsbury Auxiliary and Nursing Home where she passed away on September 6, 1993, at the age of 90 years. She was predeceased by her husband, her parents, three sisters and two brothers.

Surviving are her two sisters, Nellie Shoenbottom Hunsperger of Edmonton and Juanita St. Clair of Olds, numerous nieces and nephews, and a host of loving friends who will remember her ready wit, her love of nature, and most of all, her home, her friends and her family.

A memorial service was held Thursday, September 9, 1993 at 2 p.m. from the Mountain View Funeral Chapel, Olds with Reverend Leonard Ling officiating. A family graveside service was held at the Drumheller Cemetery on Wednesday, September 15, 1993 where her ashes were placed in the grave of her husband Robert Sutherland.

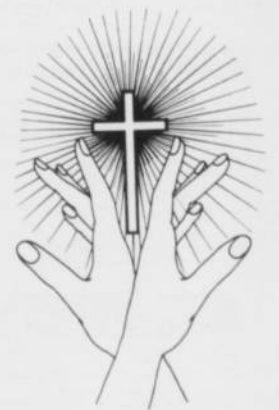

Mountain View Funeral Chapels, Olds entrusted with arrangements.

SPICER

Walter Clarence Spicer passed away September 18, 1993 in the Red Deer General Hospital, after a long illness. He leaves to mourn his wife and best friend Frances of Carstairs, four loving sons, Wayne of Morning Side, Ken and wife Linda of Fort Saskatchewan, Levern and wife Carol of Redwater, Dan and wife Debbie of Oklahoma, twelve grandchildren and one great grandchild, his brother Elden and wife Helen of Olds and a host of relatives and friends. His sister Florence predeceased him in 1992.

Funeral Services were held Wednesday, September 22, 1993 at 2:00 pm from the Carstairs Church of God with Pastors Bev and Evan Baum officiating. Interment followed at the West Zion Cemetery. Active pallbearers were: "Grandsons" Dwayne Spicer, Greg Spicer, Cory Spicer, Darcy Spicer, Scott Spicer and Dean Spicer. Honorary pallbearers were: Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buschert, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sayer, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Eckstrand and Mr. and Mrs. John Martin. If friends desire, memorial donations may be given to the Canadian Cancer Society or to the charity of one's choice. Mountain View Funeral Chapels, Olds and Didsbury entrusted with arrange-

THERE'S NO ALTERNATIVE TO CONCRETE

Concrete is the basement building material with all the advantages.

It's a proven performer. Rugged Tough, Durable. A concrete basement will never burn or rot.
And concrete is safe. Quality-controlled, concrete needs no toxic chemicals which may be hazardous to building occupants.

Concrete is an energy-wise choice.
A concrete basement needs little heat or air-conditioning. And concrete walls are easily insulated.

Economically, concrete is a good investment. A concrete basement will add years of life to the foundation and considerable dollars to the resale value of your building.

Add up the advantages. There's simply no alternative to quality controlled concrete. The best basement building material.

Hospital volunteer news

by Ruth Sverdahl,
Secretary

The Mountain View Health Care Volunteers meeting was held Sept. 9th after a July and August recess.

Congratulations were received from the C.A.H.A. convention for honorable mention in regard to the photo contest for our picture (Lend a helping hand).

The usual activities took place over the summer such as gift shop, tuck cart and visiting.

Annie Pringle and Hazel Milne gave interesting reports from the C.A.H.A. convention in June in Vancouver, which they attended. They reported on the coming cut backs which is a big topic and concern. Home care was promoted and preventative medicine. Self esteem is most important to a good recovery and also better living habits.

Several ladies attended the regional meeting held at Olds Sept. 9th. The guest speakers here also spoke on the upcoming cut backs.

The upcoming events will be a Halloween party at the Auxiliary in the afternoon on Oct. 29th.

The Christmas tea and bazaar will be held Dec. 3rd and the nut man will also come on this date. Several members have not been well the past months. We wish them in good health soon.

The next meeting is Oct. 7. New members and visitors are welcome to come.

What's cooking?

by Lisa O'Brien,
Everyday Gourmet

Lovers of Italian food will know that Bruschetta is sliced Italian bread topped with a tomato/olive oil mixture and that it's a very popular appetizer at the best Italian restaurants.

Ham and Red Pepper Bruschetta puts an all-new twist on this traditional favorite, transforming it into a crowd-pleasing meal in a minute, perfect for lunch, after school and even party time.

HAM & RED PEPPER BRUSCHETTA

3/4 cup (175 mL) finely chopped Schneiders Olde Fashioned Ham

3/4 cup (175 mL) chopped bottled roasted sweet red peppers

1 to 2 garlic cloves, finely chopped

1 - 1 1/2 tsp (7 mL) chopped fresh oregano (or 1 tsp/5 mL dried)

black pepper to taste

6 1/2" (1 cm) thick slices Italian bread, cut in half

3 tbsp (45 mL) olive oil

1/2 cup (125 mL) shredded Schneiders Mozzarella Cheese

In medium bowl, combine ham, red pepper, garlic, oregano and black pepper; set aside. Lightly toast bread slices. On large baking sheet, arrange toasted bread in single layer.

Brush lightly with olive oil. Top evenly with ham mixture; sprinkle with cheese. Broil 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese has melted. Serve immediately.

Ross Ford Report

We have had a great start to our school year. This is our first year as an E.C.S. = 80; Grade 1 = 76; grade 2 = 71; Grade 3 = 82; Grade 4 = 93. Class enrollments are between 22 and 27. All our classes are very full.

Our "Meet The Teacher Night" was held last Wednesday evening. About 65-70 percent of our parents paid us a visit.

The Runner's Club has started too. We train twice a week at noon hour. Westglen and Ross Ford will host a race for county elementary/junior high students on Thursday, Sept 23 after school. Spectators are welcome to attend and cheer on the runners. Additional races will be held in Olds on Sept 30 and in Sundre on Oct 14.

It is our intention to write a report every two weeks for the remainder of the year. Hopefully you will enjoy reading about our school in articles written by our students.

Ramblers unveil new logo

The Didsbury Senior Ramblers Hockey Club is pleased to announce the winner for their recent logo contest.

The winning entry was selected from a total of 15 submissions, many of which were interesting and of excellent variety.

After careful review and consideration by team executives, the entry of Mrs. Georgina Froebel of RR 1, Donalda, Alberta was selected.

Mrs. Froebel's submission is highlighted by a stylized capital R with the legs symbolizing Hockey sticks.

The design was given a flowing motion by the insertion of flickers following the capital R which accents and highlights a single puck off the leading leg.

The color scheme is basically three tone with the body of the letter R being green accented with white and black borders. For away uniforms, the color schemes are reversed to offset with the black uniforms. The main color on the R is white highlighted by green and black.

The Ramblers think that the fans will find the new logo exciting and keeping with the new look of the team this year. Practice has already begun for team members under new coach Bryan Latimer.

As season ticket drives continue, The Ramblers are pleased to be able to offer a wide array of promotions this year in conjunction with the hockey games.

The Ramblers' schedule is pre-

Grizzlys open season on the road

by Don E. Owchar
Review writer

The 2-time defending Alberta Junior Hockey League champion Olds Grizzlys start what's going to be a long season Tuesday night in St. Albert. With at least 16 regulars back from last years club, the Griz will have lots of experience but might be lacking a little scoring. That's because 3 guys not returning, Eric Fulton, Darcy Dallas and Reo Lajeunesse combined for close to 300 points last year.

Fulton and Dallas received scholarships to U.S. universities while Lajeunesse signed a pro contract with Tulsa of the Eastern Hockey League. However, that doesn't mean the Griz are going to be a boring, grinding type club. Guys like Slovakian import Mark Tatar, who had 16 points in 16 playoff games and Jeff Trembecky, who piled up 52 points in as many games with the Fort Saskatchewan Traders, are expected to carry a lot of the load. And, with both playoff hero Ian Perkins and Mike Cotrone back between the pipes, even if the offence doesn't do the job every night, the goaltending should.

Griz Notes... The Grizzlys home opener is Thursday, the 23rd as they entertain the team they beat in last year's exciting final, the Fort Saskatchewan Traders.... It should be interesting to see how the Traders react to former teammate Jeff Trembecky, now a Grizzly.... Game time 7:30 at the Sports Complex.... Tuesday, the 28th the Griz are at home to the Calgary Canucks, also at 7:30.... Updating the whereabouts of some of last year's Griz stars: Darcy Dallas is at Northern Michigan, Eric Fulton, Bejimi State, the Alma Mater of Flames centre Joel Otto, Geoff Liska, Vermont and as mentioned earlier, Reo Lajeunesse, Tulsa.

Friendly competition

Didsbury Lawnbowling Club member Bernice Blois takes aim in a friendly game with competitors from Red Deer at the local club last week. At stake - a cup of tea.

Lawn bowling news

by A. Pringle
Special to The Review

"Cup of Tetley Tea Day" Sept. 16 saw fifteen players come from Red Deer for a friendly game of bowls. Many of their players were beginners but certainly were very competitive.

Didsbury players numbered twenty one and found much friendly opposition.

Our catering ladies did themselves proud - served a lovely ham dinner and had coffee for both morning and afternoon.

Thank you to all the ladies who brought squares. They were enjoyed with that "Cup of Tetley Tea."

Tetley Tea are now the sponsors of Canada Bowls and enjoy having the individual clubs advertise their tea.

Bowling is finished for this season.

Recreation views

Recreation Director

On Monday, September 13, representatives from Hockey Canada confirmed that Didsbury had been chosen as one of six sites for an exhibition international hockey series featuring the national teams of Norway and Canada. The game will take place on Wednesday, October 13 in the Memorial Complex arena starting at 7:30 p.m. The Didsbury Minor Hockey Association has taken on the role of coordinating the event. Association president Ian Hopfe has indicated that up to 2,000 tickets will be sold for the game and will be available to be purchased in Didsbury at Mountain View Sports, Esso and Steve's Place. Tickets will also be circulated in Sundre, Olds, Carstairs and Cremona. Support the Didsbury Minor Association and Hockey Canada by picking yours up today.

I would like to encourage residents to take a few moments and brief through the latest issue of Community Connections. Included under the Recreation Board's section of the newsletter is an overview of the upcoming season of operation at the Memorial Complex arena, the fall program schedule for the Aquatic Centre and the '93/94 leisure ice schedule. In reference to the leisure ice schedule, there are two changes on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. An after school skate will now be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. Minor hockey is subsequently rescheduled on Tuesdays to 5:00 - 9:30 p.m. and on Thursdays to 5:00 - 9:00 p.m. Schedules for both main and leisure ice surfaces will be posed in the arena lobby for future reference.

The Didsbury Badminton Club will soon be starting up in preparation for the fall and winter season. The club meets each Tuesday evening starting October 12 and plays through to April. Annual membership fee is $15 or you may pay a nominal drop-in fee. Players of all calibre are encouraged to come out and play. Practices are held at Ross Ford Elementary School. If you would like more information call Stu at 335-4069.

The Didsbury Skate-athon is fast approaching. This year's event is scheduled for Sunday, October 17 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. in the Memorial Complex Arena. This innovative fundraising event provides local community based organizations with an opportunity to generate operating funds. Of the total pledges obtained through the event, 70 percent goes directly back to participating organizations while 30 percent is retained by the Recreation Board, aiding the Board in providing various youth programs and events. Pledge forms are available at the Recreation Office, Aquatic Centre or Town Office. If your children are involved in community groups, here is an excellent way of fundraising. For more information contact the Recreation Board Office at 335-8377.

Walking:

Alberta's favorite pastime Staying Motivated - With any exercise program the clincher is to remain motivated. If you enjoy socializing, walking with friends may help. You can also make contracts with yourself. For example, decide to walk half an hour three times a week. Keep track of how far you walk. Rewarding yourself for reaching certain milestones may help. Reading up about walking and its benefits could be a key to maintaining your walking schedule. If you enjoy volunteering, you may walk and help people at the same time, for example by pushing a person in a wheelchair. Sometimes music enhances a walk.

If you are interested in obtaining more information on the benefits of walking, please call the regional office of Alberta Community Development in Cochrane at 932-2970.

Cold gold

September is a baseball time,
The pennant race is on,
Toronto, Expos and the rest,
Exchanging pro and con,
But come the fall, King of them all,
To certain fans at large,
Forget the rest, here comes the best,
Ice hockey is in charge.

September is a football time,
The Grey Cup's out of bed,
September football fans are up,
6 points per every head,
So be it, thus, without a fuss,
We realize such fact,
But don't forget ice hockey,
Big September winning act.

September is ice hockey talk,
Around the Great White North,
A seasoned understanding of
A way of life comes forth,
There isn't much to talk about,
September tells it all,
Whatever League, the game's the same,
Ice hockey, every fall.

In addition to the color TV and trip giveaways, this year the team is also sponsoring a bicycle day and beef give-away, all in cooperation with local merchants.

Combined with the other promotions, the Ramblers give away more than $4300 in merchandise and prizes in an effort to attract fans while promoting the community at the same opportunity.

The Ramblers will be sending all contest participants a letter of thanks as well as 2 tickets to the opening home game on Halloween day, Oct. 31.

Just a reminder that season ticket sales are still available and that the Ramblers are sponsoring the popular game board for anyone that is interested.

The ramblers begin practice upon ice availability in Didsbury which is scheduled for October 5 and the fans are invited to come out and see the players warm up for the upcoming season.

Dream fight

Some fights truly matter and cancer is one,
We've got to close in on that son of a gun.
Time NOW to let cancer know where it stands,
Line fight to the finish and we're holding hands.
The fight is a big one, it's pull up the socks,
We'll win for one reason, we love Terry Fox.
The Kid from Coquitlam, a hero indeed,
The heart of a lion, commanding the lead.
The Kid made the hit parade, right at the top,
A killer was loose and he acted as cop.
One step at a time with that painstaking gait,
Insurmountable odds but his Dream couldn't wait.
This Sunday we're out to fire up one more time,
Highlighting the cause in this Terry Fox rhyme.
Get out, do your share, and we'll do our best too,
Let's fight till the Terry Fox vision comes true.

The disaster in the Crowsnest that claimed 29 miners

It was the fall of 1910 and the 300 men who were working the west Canadian Collieries mine at Bellevue had been on edge for weeks. They couldn't see or smell the methane gas building up underground, but they could hear the faint humming sound it made as it worked through the coal seam. And they knew just how dangerous it could be.

On October 31 their fears proved well founded. A stray spark set off an explosion. Fortunately, it was Thanksgiving and the mines were empty. The province's chief mines inspector, John Stirling, angrily ordered West Canadian to be more careful about ventilation. On December 3, another warning came: a union secretary complained to a local inspector that gas was building up again. The inspectors toured the mine on the 4th, found no evidence for the union's claim, and gave the colliery a clean bill of health.

At 6:30 p.m. on December 9, there was another explosion.

Many of the 40 men on the night shift were still on their way to their workplaces when the gas ignited. No one was hurt in the explosion itself, which was two miles deep in the mine. But then came the afterdamp--the deadly mixture of carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide created by the blast. One group of miners raced to the nearest entrance for fresh air. They didn't make it. The rest, panicking, tried to escape the afterdamp by running deeper into the mine. After a few short steps they collapsed.

The pit boss up above sounded the alarm the moment he saw the first puffs of smoke curl out the entrance. Miners raced to the site to prepare a rescue operation. The first party in met disaster: few of them had the Draeger breathing apparatus needed to survive the still-poisoned air below, and 13 of them, including the local doctor and the inspector who had examined the colliery the previous week, were brought to the surface unconscious.

The struggle went on. Slav miner John Bulavich personally saved four of his comrades. Another miner walked out unassisted, having been lucky enough to pass out near an airshaft after his initial flight. But the row of bodies in the mine's bathhouse grew longer and longer. One rescuer, Fred Alderson, perished after he noticed a fellow team member's oxygen tank running low and gave him some from his own.

At the surface, miners stalked about, speaking in whispers, while wives and mothers of missing men ran to and fro in the makeshift morgue, throwing off covers to see if their loved ones lay beneath. A total of 29 men, aged 19 to 50, died in the Bellevue disaster. They left behind 19 widows and 31 fatherless children. The deaths dropped a pall over the Crowsnest pass, and 1,000 miners turned out for the funeral procession which took place the next week.

Soon grief turned to anger. Socialist MLA Charlie O'Brien unleashed of the legislature's fiercest tirades ever, condemning the company and local mines inspector for negligence. A provincial inquest conducted in 1911 agreed with him on the question of guilt, but despite their ruling, the government refused to levy any penalties on the company, and the its insurers refused to pay out any death benefits to families. The union pursued the matter in the courts, and eventually the a family named Krzus won a judgement against the company before the Privy Council This opened the door for mining companies to institute no-fault, employer-funded insurance schemes for workers killed or injured on the job, and in 1918 Alberta followed Ontario's lead and created the Workers Compensation Board. (This story is one of hundreds appearing in "Alberta in the Twentieth Century," at your local Treasury Branch.)

Campers as sleuths at the Royal Tyrrell

What's happening at the Royal Tyrrell Museum is a mystery.

September 24, the Museum begins its fall series of Camp-Ins with a mind-boggling murder mystery.

For this one night only, campers ages 9 - 13 become detectives, solving an imaginary case that pits the likes of J.B. Tyrrell against ruthless coal diggers.

The campers will spend the evening with characters from the 1880's - then spend the night in the Museum's world famous dinosaur hall.

Spaces are still available for the September 24th Murder Mystery Camp-In, the first in a series of 32 sleepovers for children ages 6-9 and 9-13 scheduled to run throughout the fall and winter at the Royal Tyrrell Museum.

The cost is only $30 per child, $15 per chaperone and you can make individual reservations or book an evening of fun for an entire group.

For camp dates and additional information, contact the Royal Tyrrell Museum at 823-7707 or 294-1992 (Calgary direct).

Operated by Alberta Community Development, the Royal Tyrrell Museum is located six kilometres northwest of Drumheller on Highway 838.

First show a blast

Tony Sylvestre and Derek Lewis of Theatre Didsbury played the lead roles in their presentation of "The Odd Couple" over the weekend. The pair, along with their cast, put on a wonderfully comedic performance highlighted by the performance of Lori Kemmere and Lin Gilbreath who played the breathless and giggly Pidgeon sisters.

CBC looking for poetry and prose

CBC Radio is looking for short stories and poetry by Alberta writers to air on the long-running weekly program, Alberta Anthology. Submissions will be accepted by the CBC until November 10th. Authors of work chosen for broadcast will be paid at ACTRA rates.

Alberta Anthology is broadcast throughout the province on Sunday mornings from 8:00 to 8:30 on CBC AM Radio. It is supported, in part, by Alberta Community Development and the Alberta Foundation for the Arts (a beneficiary of Alberta Lotteries).

The producers are looking for work that tells a good story and has strong characterizations. New work will be given preference over previously published material. Writers are urged to consider the audience for which they are writing as, well as the broadcast suitability. Material that deals with death or personal love may not be appropriate.

Prose writers should submit one story, to a maximum length of 15 minutes reading time or 2,000 words. For poetry, the maximum on-air reading time is eight minutes. Poets may submit one narrative poem or a suite of five or eight works that are thematically connected.

Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced and on 8½ x 11" white paper. Writers must include a cover page with their name, address, and telephone number, along with a self-addressed stamped envelope for return of the manuscript.

Work received after the November 10th deadline will be returned unopened.

Send manuscripts to: Kathleen

Flaherty, Series Producer, Alberta Anthology, CBC Radio, Box 555, Edmonton, AB T5J 2P4.

Scrambled animals

Animals are extremely complex creatures. From armadillos to zebras, every animal is amazing. See if you can unscramble the name of the animal that fits the description given.

1. This egg-laying aquatic mammal locates its prey by sensing the aura of electric fields they create — ULATPSYP
2. One of the oldest surviving life forms on earth — ROCOKACCH
3. In its courtship rituals, this bird walks on water for its mate — WERNEST REGBE
4. These creatures have the most elaborate family life of any insect — ONHBEEEYS
5. The smallest bird in the world, it migrates up to 130 miles across the water — EBE MMHUIRNGBD
6. These animals mourn and grieve for their dead family members. Although considered a "higher" emotion, it is very noticeable among these creatures — GSLIORIA
7. These creatures have kind hearts and share their meals with others (a rare occurrence in the animal kingdom) — IRAMEVP STBA
8. The reddish secretions that ooze from this animal's skin provide a natural sunscreen — PPPHIOOTAUSM
9. This animal "dances" for his supper. He stamps his feet causing ground vibrations and drives earthworms to the surface — RTHNO AICAMERN ODOW TFLURE
10. In 1952, Vermont paid a fifty-cent bounty for each pair of these creatures ears — PNEIPOCRU

ANSWERS:
1. Platypus 2. Cockroach 3. Western Grebe
4. Honeybees 5. Bee Hummingbird 6. Gophers
7. Vampire Bats 8. Hippopotamus
9. North American Wood Turtle 10. Porcupine

Open your mouth and say "aaahhhh"

The body temperature of 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit is considered normal for humans. But animals are much different. Here are some examples:

MAMMALS		BIRDS
Goat:	103.8°	Western Pawnee:	112.6°
Rabbit:	101.3°	Canada Jay:	109.4°
Polar Bear:	99.1°	Owl:	104.4°
Blue Whale:	95.9°	Hummingbird:	104.2°
Echidna:	73.9°	Ostrich:	102.6°
(a spiny anteater)		Arctic Gull:	93.2°

DID YOU KNOW?

IN GOLF, A HOLE-IN-ONE IS ACHIEVED ONLY RARELY BY ANY PARTICULAR PLAYER. BUT IN 1974, AN ENGLISH GOLFER HOLED-IN-ONE AT THE SAME HOLE ON THREE CONSECUTIVE DAYS!

IN 1918 DURING THE FIRST WORLD WAR, THE GERMANS USED A CANON FROM A DISTANCE OF 76 MILES. THIS WAS THE LONGEST RANGE OF ANY "GUN" IN EITHER THE FIRST OR SECOND WORLD WARS.

THE CHAMELEON, WELL-KNOWN FOR ITS ABILITY TO CHANGE COLOR, IS ALSO A VERY SLOW-MOVING LIZARD. IN SOME CASES, ITS TONGUE GROWS AS LONG AS ITS ENTIRE BODY! DESPITE ITS SLOW MOVEMENT, ITS TONGUE CAN SHOOT OUT AT TREMENDOUS SPEED TO CATCH INSECTS.
